Millerism.

There are many persons who believe that this day the world will be destroyed—that all earthly affairs will be brought to a close, and that the Lord will come in power to enter upon a spiritual reign by disturbing all physical laws and making an end of the existence of matter. The wreck of this world, the breaking up of the elements and the hoarse voice of ruin has for a long time haunted these persons, until every change in the season or weather is narrowly watched as indicating the certainty of the predictions of their disordered minds.

To-day, thousands are confidently expecting that every hour will be the last. They would not be surprised to find the whole heavens filled with flame and the rocks melting at their feet. Many intelligent farmers in some of the neighboring towns have neglected harvesting their potatoes, have done milking their cows, have turned their fowls into their granaries, and abandoned all care of their temporal interests. They are now careful than the bees, the ants or the squirrels, who have laid in their usual stores for the winter. In some towns the Sectetmen, fearing that this wide spread neglect would produce pauperism and distress, have taken the affairs of these persons in hand in hope of returning reason when this day shall have passed, filled as other days have been, with the blessings and mercies of Jehovah. There is so much religious enthusiasm awakened in the minds of those persons that we fear they will again arbitrarily, or by some pretended new light or new readings of prophecy, fix upon some other period and thus continue to nourish this morbid idea of the 'end of the world'.

The neglect of industry and the waste of property are not among the most serious troubles growing out of this Miller theory. There has grown up with it a wild fury against the staid, quiet, serious religious impressions and humble unobtrusive efforts to cultivate the spiritual nature and make advances in regeneration. Religious churches and teachers have been denounced beyond reason and without mercy. The elements of a wide spread scepticism in the truth of revelation has been sown, which will require much time to uproot. Indeed, the present may be justly considered a crisis with many persons in religious matters, and not a few, we fear, will make shipwreck of rational hopes, if not of minds. We write this article on Monday, but we write with the fullest confidence that this Tuesday on which it is to appear will pass without any such displays as Miller has predicted. We ask the receivers of his doctrine to pause at this renewed failure of his prediction, and in soberness and quietness to enter upon the discharge of their domestic, social, religious and other duties. We suggest to the enlightened, the sober-minded, and quiet thinkers among the people give their influence against the wild enthusiasm created by and sustained through means of frequent meetings exclusively devoted to the Miller theory.

Moses Whitney, Jr. Esq., one of the distinguished citizens of Boston, son of Gen Whitney of Milton, died at his residence on Friday last, after a severe illness of about three weeks. The Gazette reported Mr Whitney as a distinguished colored citizen, under the idea, probably, that no white man could be distinguished!

Twenty years since, this day, snow laid upon the ground in this city to the depth of eight inches. A great difference in the weather between that year and the present, for so far, the weather this season has been pleasant and comfortable, without the slightest indication of snow or scarcely a premonitory of approaching winter.

The Governor General of Canada has made a donation of $100 to the funds of the Montreal Temperance Society.

A great Whig Victory!

NEXT U. STATES SENATE WHIG BY TWO MAJORITY AT LEAST!! From the N. Y. Express.

The elections from which we have heard during the week past, have secured to us that important body, the Senate of the U. States. This, of itself alone, giving us that great conservative, treaty-making and appointment satisfying power, is a most important victory. So, if Mr. Polk could be elected, Whig Senators would have control over all his appointments, and all his proposed measures. This is an important consideration for Polk office seekers—for they can get nothing of importance, if Polk is elected, and will be wholly in the power of the Whigs.

which as it stands, is a majority of two.

The House of Representatives.

The political character of this body will not be determined till after the Presidential Election, when in all probability, the elections to occur will follow that great result.

A fellow by the name of J. R. French, of New Hampshire, reported in the Gazette as a Liberty party orator, says he was in Bangor the week preceding the State election, and that the nights were made hideous with the shoutings of "drunken politicians". This so far as intended at a general picture of political matters at the time alluded to, in reference to either party, is a vile slander. It is in perfect keeping with the conduct of those men who make a merit of slandering better men than themselves.

In speaking of the Liberty party here this man says that many of them have come out from the fellowship of the Whigs and Democrats, but still remain in connection with the various religious parties. This we understand to be the language of reproach to the members of that party for not breaking off their connection with churches and other religious associations, and going the whole figure for abolition as the highest and only point of righteousness. This is a significant equivoal towards the point they are expected to arrive in their progress in the cause.

The Lyceum.

In another column will be found the card of the Managers of the Lyceum, announcing the lectures for the season. The first lecture will be delivered on Tuesday Evening of next week, by John Neal, Esq. of Portland. This lecture will call out a full house, a multitudinous rush, an out and out jam. Neal is powerful, better still, as a public speaker, he is eccentric, and of course, every body wishes to hear what he will say, for nobody can presume to guess before hand, and how he will say it, for in this he prides himself greatly, for so great an abhorrence has he of saying anything like other men that he unconsciously varies in following himself and thus necessarily produces the real peculiarities of Neal which everybody somehow seems to understand—and to admire.

The Managers have done well in securing a lecture from Mr Neal, better for the gratification of our people and the enlargement of the Lyceum treasury. The promised course of lectures will be quite brilliant and generally attended. Let every man see to getting his ticket before the first meeting.

The New York Express states that one hundred bales, or about 20,000 lbs., fine American wool were shipped in the Patrick Henry for Liverpool on the 7th. It was selected by a Scotch manufacturer, and some of it was taken as high as 60c a lb. There is no article that is increasing in its production so fast as this. For the last two years large flocks have been driven from the Eastern States, as well as New York, to the fertile regions of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

Twenty five years ago there was a good deal of wool shipped from New York. Since that period, however, our manufacturers have increased rapidly and have not only worked up the growth of our own Wool, but a large quantity of coarse Foreign.

Since the opening of the China trade to the British manufacturer, there has been an active demand in England for Wool, and their prices are very considerably above ours. This accounts in a measure for the rise in prices all over the world.

Meeting the Braggers.

The locos are strongly inclined to brag and bluster and offer bets. We do not approve of betting, but for the purpose of showing these bragging locos how easily they can lose their money if they really mean to risk it, a friend desires us to say he has a thousand dollars he would like to bet with any loco, that Henry Clay will be elected the next President of the United States. The money is ready. Where are the braggers?

The trial of Mrs. Stinson which has occupied the court here for several days was on Saturday last acquitted.

Mr Goodale brought into the market yesterday a load of enormously large apples, known as the 'cat-head'.

Fair apples are selling in Massachusetts, at about ninepence a bushel. Send a few down east neighbors. We have a market here with a mouth wide open.

The Charter Oak has not been through to Boston from Portland for the last three trips. She will arrive tomorrow laden with freight.

A new potato has appeared in this market said to be excellent and called the Peach bloom. It is shaped like the chengango but has the color of the old red sort.

The Mercantile Journal by crediting the Portland Advertiser for two of our news items changes the locality of the transactions mentioned from this city to Portland.

The Board of Managers of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association have awarded to the Hon. George Lunt, of Newburyport, a Gold Medal and a Diploma, for the learned and eloquent Address delivered by him, before the Association, at the Tremont Temple, on the evening of the 26th of September last.

The twenty third number of Littell's Living Age is excellent. It is worth twice its price.

Ice made half an inch in thickness on Tuesday night.

The Madisonian is coaxing the Abolitionists to vote for Mr Polk!

Naval.

The new sloop of war Portsmouth, is preparing for sea at Portsmouth, N. H. and the officers have been ordered to her. Her destination is said to be the Coast of Africa, to relieve the Saratoga. She will be under the charge of Commodore Montgomery.

The new sloop of war St. Mary's, Capt Saunders, is fitting out at the Washington Navy Yard—destination supposed to be the Mediterranean.

The Jameston, at Norfolk, is also to be fitted out immediately.

War and Missions.

A calculation has been made between the expense of one year's cruise of a seventy-four gun ship and the whole amount expended in the twenty years of missions to the Sandwich Islands, by which they have been raised from the lowest barbarism in a respectable rank among civilized and Christian nations, and the former is found to exceed the latter. Were public sentiment to be so changed, that the entire cost of sustaining the American and British navies should be appropriated for diffusing the principles of justice and mutual good will among the nations, how soon might the institutions of science and the hallowed temples of Jehovah adorn every city and village on the globe!

Charles Jared Ingersoll.

It is now pretty generally conceded that the election of this man was obtained through fraud and that too of the most startling character, from the fact of his having received 919 more votes this year than he did last; when he had only one candidate to contend against. The Native Americans are adopting measures to contest the elections.

We shall probably have a batch of Foreign News to night.

The only Successful Remedy for the Piles. THE VEGETABLE PILE ELECTRICITY, invented by Dr. Upton, a distinguished Physician of New York City, (106 Bowry), is the only successful remedy for that distressing complaint, THE PILES.

Mark this! it is an INTERNAL REMEDY—not an external application—and will cure any case of the Piles; either Bleeding or Blind, Internal or External; and probably the only thing that will. There is no mistake about it. It is a positive cure—speedy and permanent. It is also a convenient medicine to take, and improves the general health, in a remarkable manner. Pamphlets containing testimonials of its efficacy, may be obtained of the Agents gratis.
